Canadian Language Benchmarks

Can Do Statements

At this Benchmark, I can:

- write complex formal and informal texts for a full range of purposes, intentions, and objectives
- write with coherent synthesis of extensive complex information from multiple sources
- write with very good control of a broad range of complex and diverse structures

When:

- the audience is diverse and defined or undefined
- the topic is unfamiliar, highly abstract or specialized, and may require research

Interacting with Others

Convey a range of communication that synthesizes complex propositions to foster goodwill toward a company, initiative, campaign, or political or social entity in a quality, tone and style suitable for publication.

For example:

• an evaluation report to shareholders explaining the reasons behind a take-over bid

Getting Things Done

Write highly specialized, complex formal correspondence and documents (such as external correspondence, formal proposals, procedures, training materials or public reports).

For example:

- an external evaluation report about a large project
- a policy or procedure manual at work

Reproducing Information

Reduce and synthesize very complex and extensive information from multiple sources into a variety of formats (such as point-form notes, minutes, outlines, summaries, reports, abstracts, or charts).

For example:

- an abstract, including a chart, of an extensive statistical report
- Evaluate, revise and edit summaries and other reduced forms of very complex and extensive information by other writers (such as point-form notes, minutes, outlines, précis, reports, abstracts or charts).

For example:

• edit an executive summary of a longer report

The Can Do Statements were developed with support from the Province of Manitoba and the Government of Canada.

Sharing Information

Write effective and stylistically polished texts (such as essays, reports, articles, or theses) to inform, convince, and persuade others.

For example:

- a thesis or research paper for a peer-reviewed journal
- Evaluate, revise and edit information for public use.

For example:

- promotional material for a campaign or project
- a thesis, dissertation, or research paper for a peer-reviewed journal
