

Some Features of Communication Across Stage I Speaking

CLB 1 Initial Basic Ability	CLB 2 Developing Basic Ability	CLB 3 Adequate Basic Ability	CLB 4 Fluent Basic Ability
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Communication is face-to-face and with one person at a time in a familiar situation. • Highly familiar personal topics. • Tasks require only simple responses to direct questions or short phrases and memorized stock expressions. • Situation is predictable. • Interaction is informal. • Listeners are highly supportive and encouraging. • Listener may guide the speaker by asking questions and by directing the communication. • Context is non-demanding. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Communication is face-to-face and with one person at a time in a familiar situation. • Highly familiar personal topics. • Tasks require only simple responses to direct questions or short sentences and memorized stock expressions. • Situation is predictable. • Interaction is informal. • Listeners are highly supportive and encouraging. • Listener may guide the speaker by asking questions and by directing the communication. • Context is non-demanding. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Communication is face-to-face with one person at a time in a familiar situation. • Familiar personal topics. • Tasks require responses to direct questions, some short, simple connected discourse, and memorized stock expressions. • Situation is predictable. • Interaction is informal. • Listeners are supportive and encouraging. • Listener may guide the speaker by asking questions. • Context is non-demanding. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Communication is face-to-face with one person at a time in a familiar situation, very briefly on the phone, or in a very small supportive group. • Familiar personal topics. • Tasks require short, simple, connected discourse. • Situation is predictable. • Interaction is informal to somewhat formal. • Listeners are supportive and encouraging. • Listener may guide the speaker by asking questions. • Context is non-demanding.