

Practice

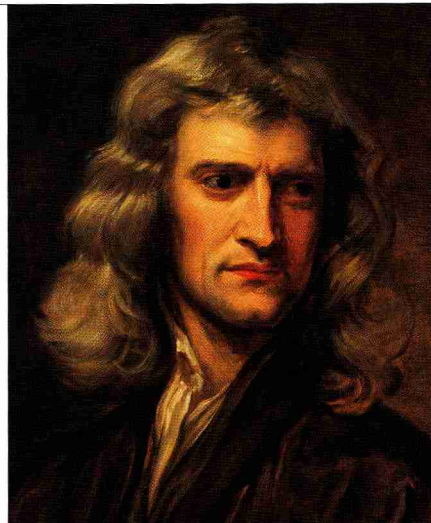

1 Complete each sentence with one word only. Do not use the same word more than once.

- 1 Modern cars use fuel than the old ones did.
- 2 I don't know her address – I've got no idea she lives these days.
- 3 If you want to pass the test, you'll have to make mistakes next time.
- 4 they did with the money is still a mystery.
- 5 Do you know the boss wants to see me?
- 6 Caroline never explained she made all that money.
- 7 Since his retirement Silvio has had time to spend in the garden.
- 8 I only voted for him because he was the irritating of the candidates.

2 GRAMMAR IN USE Replace each underlined phrase with a wh- noun clause, using the words in brackets, as in the example. 4.11 Listen and check.

Isaac Newton

In 1687 the English scientist Sir Isaac Newton published a book entitled Mathematical Principles of Natural Philosophy. At the time few people fully understood (0) the suggestions in the book (what/suggest). Nonetheless, the book was hugely influential and made Newton famous around the world, although fame was not (1) his intention (what/want). Newton's theories were based on mathematics and (2) his observations of (what/see) in the world around him. He noticed that all objects, heavy or light, fell to the ground. He wanted to explain (3) the reasons for this (why/happen). His theory of gravity provided a revolutionary explanation of (4) the movement of different objects (how/different objects / move). (5) The ideas in his book (what/write) became the basis for much of our understanding of physics and the processes which govern relationships between physical objects.

- | | | |
|-------------------------------------|---------|---------|
| 0 what the book suggested .. | 2 | 4 |
| 1 | 3 | 5 |

3 Find and correct six mistakes in these sentences. Tick (✓) the correct sentences.

- 1 It's raining so there are less children in the park than usual.
- 2 I couldn't believe the ridiculous reason what they gave for their behaviour.
- 3 I'll only accept that promotion if it pays more money than I'm getting now.
- 4 We weren't very close so we didn't hear that she said very clearly.
- 5 You should see where she lives – it's amazing!
- 6 It's quite a good novel, but very similar to the one what he published two years ago.
- 7 Who she married hardly matters any more, does it?
- 8 Darren won because he took the fewest time to complete the task.
- 9 The explanation what the suspect gave didn't convince the detective.
- 10 Let's meet at the Luna café – it's close to where I work.